Dr. William Kader's lecture on "The Making of a Man" is a masterpiece, and is well worth the price of a season ticket to Chautauqua.

Every Italian citizen should hear Lieutenant Bruno Rossi in "Italy's New Place Among the Nations" at Chautauqua the fifth day.

The Pass Celebrates Peace

As the result of complete organization the Peace Day celebration in the Crow's Nest Pass was one of the biggest days in the district's history. An elaborate programme had been arranged for the day, including a magnificent auto procession. Autos from Coleman and Blaimore assembled on the flats at McLaren's Mill, where a procession was formed and addressed by Mr. W. L. Oumitte, Rev. H. Clay and Rev. D. K. Allan. From Coleman the procession returned to the Frank Military Hospital, where they were received by the O. C., Lieut. O. H. Kerr. At Frank the procession was strengthened by a large number of autos from Bellevue, Hillcrest and other eastern points, and return was made to Blaimore, where addresses were delivered by W. P. Williams, Rev. S. Hagboud and others.

The procession presented a beautiful appearance, all cars and floats being fittingly decorated.

In the afternoon a programme of sports was pulled off on the athletic grounds and prizes were awarded as follows:

Boys' race, 50 yards, ten years and under—first David Kemp, second S. Webb.

Girls' race, 50 yards, ten years and under—first G. Penman, second J. Dypolt.

Burns & Co., Harry Burns, L. Dutil, J. E. Gillis, A. Mutz, J. M. Windsor, Dr. Olivier, J. R. Smith, Raoul Green, R. Smallwood, W. A. Beebe, J. G. Ewan, S. J. Sargent, W. Evans, Henry Zak, W. J. Bartlett, Mike Giacomuzzi, A. McLeod, J. Montalbetti, W. H. Chappell, W. Wolstenholme, L. H. Putnam, G. A. Passmore, R. G. Foote, A. Hamilton, F. Wright, A. Ericson, P. Link, R. Randall, Ben Doratty, E. Hinds, H. Bennett, H. Grisebach, A. A. Shearer—Total $288.

The Coleman town band was in attendance during the day.

A dancing pavilion was operated on the ground during the afternoon and evening, and was well patronized.

The baseball game, attracted more than ordinary interest, and was well contested, resulting in a victory for Macleod 4 to 0.

Refreshment tents were operated on the grounds and did their best towards "keeping down the dust."

It may be gratifying to know that all prize monies were contributed by the business people and citizens of Blaimore and that everyone was given free admission to the sports grounds. Of the $280 or more paid out in prize money, less than 20 per cent. remained with local competitors.

Local and General

Miss M. L. Walsh left this morning to spend a vacation of a couple of weeks in Western States points.

It is said that Commissioner Cuddy bottled some tea that was served in Blaimore on Tuesday and sent it to Edmonton to be analyzed. It's one on us if it contains any material that would affect one's system in the way of intoxication.

The grand dance given by the G. W. V. A. on the new pavilion last night was well attended and most enjoyable. The proceeds of the dance will be devoted to a fund intended to benefit dependants of comrades who lost their lives on the battlefield or during the war, and such entertainments will be held regularly in future. Kerr's orchestra rendered good music.

The American Consul at Fernie gives notice that beginning August 1st, 1919, the following fees will be charged for the certification of consular invoices: On ordinary invoices, $2.00 in Canadian currency; on invoices of returned American goods, $1.40. This action is taken because of the difference in exchange. The consul states that for some time he has been losing considerable sums because of the fact that consular fees are paid him in Canadian Currency while he must account to the American government in United States currency.

A slight accident occurred on Main Street on Saturday last, in

Ulster Leader's Speech Is Severely Criticized

London.—Sir Edward Carson's speech has brought the Ulster leader under the lash of the newspapers of all parties, primarily on account of his references to the United States, which are criticized as tactless and calculated to breed bad blood between the two nations, and, secondly, because he reiterated his old threat to call out the Ulster volunteers to resist any attempt to place the Home Rule Act in operation.

The Attorney-General, Sir Gordon Hewart, announced in the House of Commons that there were no grounds for setting the law in motion against Sir Edward because it is thought to call out the Ulster volunteers against Home Rule.

By a vote of 217 to 73, the House rejected a motion by J. R. Clynes, Labor member, urging the government to prosecute Sir Edward Carson for his speech as incitement to violence and breach of the law.

The debate turned on the legal point, in which, the Attorney-General said, he had the concurrence of the Solicitor-General. But almost all the speakers without distinction of party condemned the Carson speech. Sir Donald Maclean, Liberal, appealed to the government to try to regain the moral authority of parliament by condemning the language the Irish Unionist leader used.

Andrew Bonar Law, the government spokesman, contended that the government was bound to be guided by its legal advisers, though nothing could be more painful to him. If the government had been advised that the law was broken he would have insisted on action being taken or would have resigned. The whole thing was a very unfortunate affair, said Mr. Bonar Law.

The Labor organizations are not slow to point out that such incitement to "direct action" could be improved upon in the industrial field for securing political ends. The Liberal pro-Irish papers are really quick to point out that in point of tactics there is no difference between "King De Valera" and "King Carson."

Labor Conference

Called At Ottawa

Premiers of Provinces, Labor Leaders and Employers to Be Invited

Ottawa.—It was decided at a meeting of the privy council to call a national industrial conference for September 11. To this meeting all provincial premiers or accredited representatives will come to talk over with representatives or organizations of employers and employees just what legislation would best help bring about an era of co-operation and concord in Canadian industry. Great efforts will be put forth to secure the hearty cooperation of the conference of all elements of labor and all organizations of employers.

Set Price Of U. S. Wheat

Wheat and Wheat Flour Imports and Exports Put Under Prescribed Limitations

Washington.—President Wilson has signed an executive order increasing the guaranteed price of the 1919 wheat crop to $2.30 per bushel at Galveston and New Orleans.

At the same time a presidential proclamation was issued declaring that in order "to protect the United States against undue enhancement of its liability" under the law guaranteeing wheat prices, that on and after July 31 no wheat or wheat flour should be imported into or exported from the United States except within the prescribed limitations to be prescribed by the wheat administrator.

Radical Leaders Leave Hungary

Vienna.—There is a crisis in the Hungarian soviet. General Boehm, commander of the army, has been imprisoned. Reports have been circulated that his health required rest in a sanatorium. Strumfeld, second in command, is reported to have fled. Statements that K. K. Kovacs, the soviet leader, had been invited to a conference by the allies has given rise to reports that he has accepted this subterfuge as a means of escaping from Hungary without the intention of returning. It is denied, however, that he has left Hungary thus far, or even departed from the capital.

Minimum Price Of 1919 Crop

Winnipeg.—An afternoon paper prints the following from its Ottawa correspondent:

Confirmation was given by Sir Thomas White of the report that a minimum price for wheat will be guaranteed in all probability by the government. What this price is to be Sir Thomas would not say. The intention is to give commercial and financial stability to the marketing of the crop, in view of unsettled world conditions, the unique situation created by the United States food prices, and the uncertainty as to how the world demand would react to the queer conditions now obtaining. The fixing of a price gives a guarantee which will facilitate the marketing of the crop, it is hoped.

Hot In India

Troops Campaigning in India Suffer Terribly From Heat and Cholera

Peshawar, India.—The continued heat is appalling, but everything is being done to mitigate the sufferings of the troops. Ice plants have been fitted up at Landkoti and Dakna, and an attempt is being made to supply a pound of ice daily to each British soldier. Special hospitals have been equipped in the Khyber district for treatment of heat cases. The violent epidemic of cholera, which broke out in June, lasted nearly three weeks. There were 1,663 cases and 566 deaths, principally among the camp followers. Six British officers and 15 men also died, but the disease is now practically stamped out.

A special train daily carries troops for short spells to the Murree Hills. The troops are now better housed and fed than in any previous campaign. The firm steadiness of the British troops in facing the heat deserves the utmost admiration.

Spain Placed On Low Level

Neutrality Belittled Her in Eyes of Other Powers

Madrid.—The neutrality which Spain maintained during the war has belittled her in the eyes of the other powers, declared Senor Pere Cablero, former ambassador to France, in a speech in the senate, during the debate on the reply to the message from the crown, delivered at the recent reopening of the Cortes. The government's policy had been set forth entirely too vaguely, he insisted.

The senator demanded that if possible Spain should ally herself with the allied and associated nations, saying that Spain could not remain isolated from the rest of Europe. "If we would call Spain from the low level upon which her neutrality has placed her," he added, "it is indispensable that her signature be joined to those of Great Britain and the United States on the pact guaranteeing security to France."

Rioting in Stettin

Copenhagen.—A general strike, accompanied by rioting, has started at Stettin, capital of the province of Pomerania, Prussia, according to advices received from German sources. The strike involves all trades, including harbor transport, water and electrical power workers. The object of the strike is to secure abolition of martial law in Pomerania and other political reforms.

Steamer From Orient Docks

Victoria, B.C.—With 182 saloon passengers and 150 Chinese in the steerage, and 5,000 tons of freight, the Empress of Japan docked here from the Orient, 11 days from Yokohama. The liner has a valuable cargo of raw silk. Four British officers, Major A. E. Scooby, Captain F. L. Thomas, Captain F. E. Womersley, and Lieut. D. M. Walker, all of whom saw service with General Maude's forces in Mesopotamia, were passengers.

Strike Investigation Held At Winnipeg

Labor Men Want Robson Commission to Probe Alleged Discrimination

Winnipeg.—Little progress was made at the opening session of the royal commission to investigate the strike under Commissioner H. A. Robson at the legislative chamber. The session lasted less than one hour, the greater portion of which time was given up to discussing which phase of the strike the commission would probe first and was then adjourned.

It was practically decided that for the present the commission should occupy itself with inquiries into the effects of the strike, and not the causes, although Judge Robson also pointed out that the calling and conducting of the strike could also be gone into fully. The reasons that made for this course were, as presented by Mr. Murray, representing the trades and labor council, that many of the most important individuals who would have to give evidence are, at the present time, awaiting preliminary hearings on various charges.

Mr. Murray suggested that the question of alleged discrimination arising out of the reinstatement of the workers who had been on strike ought to come before the commission, adding that those whom he represented felt that this question ought to be taken up at once.

Judge Robson said that the fact that men were out of work was an effect of the strike. How far the commission would go into individual cases was questionable. In his opinion, however, Mr. Murray would be well advised to prepare a list of such cases, and also notify the commission concerned so that they would have the opportunity of representing themselves if they wished. Another matter which the commission would enquire into at the present time, said the commissioner, was the calling and conducting of the strike.

Repair Of War Damages

France Puts Up Millions to Aid in Work of Reparation in Country

Paris.—Minister of Finance Klotz has introduced in the chamber of deputies a bill approving an agreement with a country called the Reparation Commission, formed in order to facilitate repair of war damages.

The company's capital is to be 100,000,000 francs, and it will advance funds to a maximum of ten years. The funds will be secured by the issue by France abroad of shares in the company, which are to be guaranteed by the government's budget.

Raisuli Again On Warpath

Spanish Position Is Attacked By the Bandits

Madrid.—Raisuli, the Moroccan bandit, according to an official communication, again has attacked the Spanish positions at El Arish, but was repulsed after a long and bitter fight. The bandit, realizing that the Spanish forces had cut off communication between his camp and Tangier, decided to attack, and the communication said it was carried on furiously. Raisuli suffered heavy losses, leaving many dead or wounded on the field. The communication adds that the Spaniards also lost heavily, but they are pursuing Raisuli, who is fleeing into the mountainous country.

U. S. Soldier's Pay Is Small

Washington.—Popular belief in the U. S. that the U. S. soldier is higher paid than that of any other country is erroneous, according to an official table issued by the general staff. This shows the three British dominions—Canada, Australia and New Zealand—allow materially higher pay for each grade than does the U. S. For instance, in the Australian army a corporal earns $22.90 per month, as compared with $36 in the U. S. army.

The bill has been specially selected by Mr. Alexander Pantages, and will be found an added attraction to out-of-town visitors who like this form of amusement. 61 Druggists May Be Liquor Vendors Winnipeg.—Sixty-one Manitoba druggists have been licensed to sell liquor during the coming fall season, against 69 last year, according to J. N. McClean, administrator of the Temperance Act.

W. M. U. 1273

Co-Operative Plan Suggested

To All Stockmen to Get Freed to Cattle, or Cattle to Feed, as Needed

Ottawa.—To relieve the stockmen in the dry areas of Alberta and Saskatchewan whose herds are threatened through scarcity of feed, the federal government has submitted two proposals to the provincial governments interested. It is proposed to cut hay on the Dominion lands in the north, bale it and ship it south to feed the cattle or to send the cattle from the southern areas to the hay lands of the north, where moisture has been adequate and grass is abundant.

To carry out either of these proposals the Dominion government has proposed to the provincial authorities that the cost of securing and moving the hay and cattle be borne equally by the Dominion government, provincial governments, railway companies and stock owners.

Another proposal for division of expense is that it be borne equally by the Dominion government, provincial governments and railway companies. This latter proposal will be adopted, as the stock owners may not be in a financial position to assume any part of the cost. The Alberta authorities have signified their willingness to co-operate, and it is believed will advise that the whole expense be borne by the Dominion and provincial governments and the railway companies.

Forest Fires Caused By Heat

Three Men Trapped in Tunnel of Mine in Salmon River Valley

Nelson.—Three men are trapped by forest fires in a tunnel at the Second Relief mine, near Erie, in the Salmon River valley. The men are known to have provisions enough to last them for four days.

According to a telephone message received here from Erie, the men are believed to be safe for the time being, although there is danger that they may be suffocated should the flames close in on the mouth of the tunnel.

Several forest fires have started in this district during the past few days as a result of the hot wave. Forest rangers say that the fires are due to spontaneous combustion of gas generated by the heat from the resin in the trees.

Slogan City, about 25 miles from here, is surrounded by fires. Fire hose have been stretched to outlying sections of the town.

'Black Watch'—The Best Black Plug Chewing Tobacco on the Market

Manitoba Taking Alberta Cattle Winnipeg.—As a result of the present crisis in the cattle industry in Alberta, where there has been a total failure of hay and other fodder crops, leaving, according to reports, approximately 150,000 head of cattle without food, the Manitoba Department of Agriculture has decided to purchase between 25,000 and 30,000 head for the farmers of this province. Action by the government was announced by Hon. V. Winkler, minister of agriculture.

No Military Entente With U. S.

London.—A report that Great Britain and the United States has entered into an agreement regarding their respective military establishments was denied in the House of Commons by Andrew Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

For Harvest Help

Winnipeg.—There will be a conference in Winnipeg July 24 to consider the general question of harvest help for the prairie provinces.

Britain May Have New Political Party

U. S. Opinion And Irish Question

London.—The British government does not regard the action of the United States senate with respect to Ireland, or the acts in the same connection of other persons or bodies representing the United States people, as in violation of Article 10 of the League of Nations covenant, said Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the House of Commons.

The government, Mr. Law added, would not put the question of the future government of Ireland on the program for consideration at the next meeting of the council of the League of Nations.

Predicts Split In Labor Ranks

Dominion Trades and Labor Council Will Have to Take Some Action

Winnipeg.—In the opinion of many union officials, summary action by the Dominion Trades and Labor council is expected to follow the adoption by the local Trades and Labor Council of a Calgary convention report, amounting to full endorsement of the One Big Union project. The possibility that the local council's charter will be cancelled and formation of a new council comprising unions loyal to the congress authorized, was widely discussed in labor circles.

R. A. Rigg, general organizer for the congress in Western Canada, announced that he had telegraphed the Ottawa headquarters about the action taken by the local council and that he expected to learn what steps would be taken soon.

Mr. Rigg spoke for half an hour against the One Big Union when the vote was taken. "It was all arranged, anyhow," he said, "and there was no chance of winning our point so long as the Trades and Labor Council retains its present make-up."

Partially Reduce Russian Blockade

Paris.—The council of five held a meeting, its chief topic of discussion being the Russian blockade. There have been proposals that the powers shall allow ships to enter Russian ports under special permits. It has been suggested that most of the Black Sea ports could be blockaded by the Denikine government, which is friendly to the allies, but the supreme council has not decided to ask him to declare such a blockade.

Prince of Wales' Tour

London.—Rt. Hon. Walter Long announced in the Commons that the Prince of Wales would embark for Canada August 5. The Prince will visit St. John's, Nfld., then proceeding in a light cruiser to St. John, N.B., and Charlottetown, where he will re-embark on the Renown and proceed to Halifax.

Former Emperor Takes a Rest

Amsterdam.—The former German emperor refrained from sawing trees for the first time in several months. It is understood that he is suffering from a cold. The former emperor has experienced a recurrence of his heart affection.

London.—A sensation has been caused in political circles by the news that Colonel Winston Spencer Churchill, Secretary of War, who has just returned from visiting Premier Lloyd George at Crichel, delivered a speech at a dinner in the west end, at which over a hundred members of the House of Commons were present, urging the necessity of a new and permanent coalition party, rechristened the "Centre" party.

The dinner was organized quietly, and only became known of when some of the diners returned to the House.

It appears that Col. Churchill, speaking as a disciple of Lloyd George, spoke for an hour, and reviewed old political differences, and emphasized the necessity for continued combination of the moderates among the Unionists and Liberals in order to preserve what had been won in the war.

Col. Churchill insisted that co-operation was necessary in order to fight Bolshevism.

The supporting speakers included the chief coalition Liberal and Unionist whigs.

The Lord Chancellor referred sympathetically to the future of the Labor party, but some speculation exists as to the new party's attitude of alliance or opposition towards the Labor party. The diners gained the impression that Lloyd George would lead the new Centre party.

British Officials

Honored By U. S.

General Pershing Grants Service Decorations in London

London.—General Pershing, the United States commander-in-chief, has presented Distinguished Service Medals to a number of prominent British government officials. Those who received the medals were Viscount Milner, Secretary for the Colonies; Winston Spencer Churchill, Secretary for War; Viscount Peirce, Baron Weir, Director-General of Aircraft Production; Baron Loxleyworth (Arthur Weir), former Minister of Munitions; and Patsy Cassels, Joint Advocate-General.

In presenting the medals, General Pershing said they were a token of the appreciation of the American government for services rendered by the recipients.

Prices Drop In Germany

Profiteers, in a Panic, Flood Markets With Stocks of Food

Berlin.—Prices on all foodstuffs have fallen with a crash in Berlin as a result of the lifting of the blockade. They began to show weakness when it was rumored that the embargo would be lifted, but the real drop came only when illicit dealers with huge concealed stocks brought them out in universal panic to unload before competing supplies entering Germany.

Tons of provisions are being shipped in from occupied territories, while everywhere in the city German stores of coffee, cocoa, butter, sausages, and other supplies have made their appearance. Coffee prices fell from an average of forty marks to below twenty, and the product could easily be bought for fifteen.

Other food prices were correspondingly cut. Restaurants, however, still maintain high prices and apparently intend to continue to do so as long as possible.

New Zealand Thanks America

Appreciation of Hospitality to New Zealand Troops Visiting the
United States
Auckland, New Zealand.—Appreciation of American hospitality to New Zealand troops visiting the United States, and the camaraderie of the battlefront, have brought the big republic and dominion of New Zealand nearer than in pre-war days. This feeling was emphasized by Lieutenant Morton, who recently returned to Auckland from a lecturing tour in America. An official recognition was also given by the Wellington City Council, which sent a vote of appreciation to officials at Panama and Colon in connection with the treatment of New Zealand soldiers passing through the canal. It is interesting in this connection to note that Australia has cabled its gratitude to the Panama canal administration, through the imperial government.

Canada Wants Big Poultry Industry

Preaching the Gospel of Increased Poultry Production to Canada Montreal.—The hens of Canada, if properly encouraged, could pay the nation's war debt in a few years, according to F. C. Elford, apostle of the barnyard chicken.
The 1,000,000 farms of Canada should have 100,000,000 hens on them, and there should be 10,000,000 additional hens in towns and villages. At a low estimate of ten dozen eggs from each hen, these hens would produce 1,100,000,000 dozen eggs. If these eggs sold at 60¢ a dozen, which is below the present price, Canada's egg crop would bring in $660,000,000 a year.
Mr. Elford is preaching the gospel of increased poultry production to Canada. He wants especially to get across to the settlers who are pouring in upon the land the message that under present food conditions the barnyard fowl lays golden eggs.
Nearly a billion chickens are raised yearly in the U.S. In 1900, Uncle Sam's wealth from poultry and eggs was greater in money value than the world's output of gold or silver. In 1899 the value of all the wheat, corn, barley, rye, buckwheat and such small fruits, sugar and such sugars raised in the United States was less than the revenue from chickens.

Community Movement

Says Winnipeg Will Have 50 Community Clubs in a Few Years

F. C. Middleton, acting secretary of the Social Service Council, predicts that in the next few years Winnipeg will have 50 Community clubs. The community movement is gripping the city as well as the country, and the recent tie-up in Winnipeg has shown the need of a united citizenship.

Germans Will Always Be Hung

Premier of New Zealand Has No
Faith in Regeneration Vancouver, B.C.—"The Hungs were Hung 2,000 years ago, they are Hungs today, and they will be Hung to the day of judgment, and perhaps afterwards," said the Hon. W. F. Massey, Premier of New Zealand, giving his opinion of the regeneration of the German people, the course of an address to the members of the Canadian Club.
"I have no faith in the regeneration of the Germans," said Mr. Massey, who further emphasized his distrust of any lasting improvement in the defeated enemy by giving it as his opinion that German chemists would be at work soon, if they were not already at work, devising new methods of destruction for use when the proper time arrives. The most serious mistake made with regard to the conclusion of peace, in the opinion of the speaker, was in not dictating a victorious peace on the soil of Germany.

Channel Tunnel Project Discussed

Westminster, England.—A meeting of members of the House of Commons, held to discuss the report on the Channel tunnel, unanimously agreed that the project should not be left to private enterprise, but should be executed jointly by the two nations, and adopted a resolution, asking for the government's support as the best proof of Great Britain's sympathy for France, and to improve her friendship and alliance with France.
A deputation was appointed to approach the Prime Minister.

Britain's Progress In Food Production

Farmers Did Much to Turn Scale
Against Submarines

London, Eng.—Prof. Frederick Keble at the Royal Institution recently delivered the first of two addresses on "Intensive Cultivation," in the course of which he gave an interesting survey of the remarkable increase in food production in Great Britain during the period of the war.
Farmers, he said, did much to turn the scale against the submarines, and during the later stages of the conflict the allotment holders accomplished positive wonders.
A contrast between the German people and the British was furnished in the fact that before, and during the first year of the war the Germans were producing some 42,000 tons of potatoes, which they regarded as the best vegetable food, against 7,000 tons produced in Great Britain. In 1915, however, the Germans shot their bolt and their production rapidly fell until there was an utter collapse, whereas Great Britain's steady and determined effort rose to a remarkable extent. It had been a mistake to decrease the acreage available for the cultivation of soft fruit, but the people had now learned that fruit and vegetables were as important articles of food almost as corn and meat.

The men who had worked under great disadvantages, and with such conspicuous success to increase the food supplies had earned, in his opinion, the gratitude of the nation.
One result of the general adoption of the allotment scheme was that there now was a very widespread desire to grow things, and this was going to prove a difficult question and would have to be dealt with in a statesmanlike manner.

Most important had been the production of food by the army itself.
The army had achieved notable success, especially in France and Mesopotamia, and their work in this respect showed that the army did carry out what it undertook to do. In his opinion there was now a distinct opportunity for profitable cultivation in Great Britain.

This is to certify that fourteen years ago, I got the cords of my left wrist greatly severed, and was for about nine months that I had no use of my hand, and tried other liniments, also doctors, but without success. I then got a bottle, which completely cured me, and have been using MINARD'S LINIMENT ever since, and find it useful, and would never be without it.

Allied War Veteran Plan

Sydney, New South Wales.—The Returned Sailors and Soldiers Imperial League of Australia has been approached, with a view to affiliation, by organizers of a society of allied war veterans, which is being formed by reorganized American soldiers.
Probably the movement for an inter-empire soldiers' association will take shape before that of allied war veterans.

Joffre Given Precedence

France Acknowledges Him as Man
Who Saved Her When Odds
Were Heavy
When the great parade with which France celebrated the victory of her armies passed under the Arch of Triumph, Marshal Joffre rode ahead of Marshal Foch. The great victor of the great war gave precedence to the man whose place he had taken at the head of the armies of France.
Joffre may have been the general and Foch the soldier, but it was Joffre to win the war, but France acknowledges him as the man who saved her when the odds were so heavy that it appeared that only a miracle could stem the onrushing German hordes. Joffre, whatever may have been the mistakes he made later, won the war in its early days, by not letting it when the Germans had everything in their favor. So he lives in the hearts of his countrymen in their hour of adversity, and he shall live in the hearts of future generations of Frenchmen who love their France.—

Britain Leads

Britannia Rules the Air as Well as the Waves

The New York Tribune points out that in 1914 Germany was first France was second, Italy was fourth and the United States was last in the appreciation of aircraft, as shown by the amount of money each was willing to spend on that arm of preparedness. When the armistice was signed, on November 11, 1918, the personnel of the military air force in each of these countries was as follows:

Officers and men
Great Britain	295,000
United States	185,852
Italy	100,337
France	80,000
Germany	Unknown
Great Britain is determined to maintain her lead, in evidence of which appropriations for the year 1919-20 follow:
Experiments and research in civil aviation	$15,000,000
Military and naval (joint service)	$315,000,000
Total appropriated for the air	$330,000,000

War Facts and Figures

Some Details of Of Immensity Of British Air Operations

These are some of the amazing facts in Sir Douglas Haig's latest report.
General Headquarters received 9,000 telegrams in one day, and 3,400 letters by express daily. One army headquarters received 100 telegrams a day, and 4,000 daily telegrams on the lines for communication were 23,000.
There were 1,500 lines of telegraph and telephones, and 3,658 miles of railways, on which 1,800 trains ran weekly.
In six weeks 5,000,000 rations were supplied, by our armies in France, to 800,000 civilians in the relieved areas.
200 tons dead weight of supplies and stores were required daily for the maintenance of each division.
The total daily ration strength of our armies was 2,700,000. An addition of one ounce to each man's rations represented an extra 100 tons.
Over 400,000 horses and mules and 700 motor vehicles were used, and 4,500 miles of road made or maintained.
In 1914 there was one machine gun to 500 in the British Army. At the armistice there was one machine gun to 20 infantrymen.
Over 700,000 tons of ammunition were fired by our artillery on the Western Front from last August to the armistice.

Noted Trainer Here With Animal Show

Buller's Dog and Pony Shows at Blairmore, July 20

Meritt Below, who heads the troupe staff with Buller's Dog and Pony Shows, although young in years is a veteran of the white top. Many residents of this section of the country will remember the old Norris & Rowe's Dog and Pony Show. This attraction regularly used to travel through British Columbia and Western Canada, visiting all the principal points. Below is an adopted son of the late Harry Rowe, one-time owner of Norris & Rowe's Show, and he is considered to be the country's foremost animal educator.

All winter long Below has been working on the Buller stock ranch on San Juan Island in the state of Washington.
Assisted by a staff of competent animal trainers he has been working from early morning until late at night, getting his show ready for the road.

Visitors to this remarkable exhibition of animal actors will have the opportunity of witnessing results of Below's work.
At each performance this versatile trainer will direct thirty-five ponies of all sizes in a superb military drill. It is impossible for anyone to count the number of thirty-five ponies unless they have been thoroughly trained in their work.
"Chester," the talking horse, adds, sub-tracts, multiplies and actually smiles.
"Sport," the wire-walking dog, will mount the ladder step by step, and unaided he will walk the full length of a tight wire suspended in mid-air. Kidding monkeys, riding dogs, dogs that loop-the-loop, dogs who do the skirt dance and clown dogs, together with a full performance that is especially appreciated by the women and children. Mr. Buller has with him this year a fully developed pony actually standing only thirty-six inches high.

The show carry about 1,100 head of trained performing animals and a total of 100 people, while the performance is further strengthened by the addition of some prominent circus acts, including aerial acrobats, iron-jaw performers. No circus would be complete without clowns and the management have with them this season Harry La Verne, veteran circus clown and jester, assisted by a troupe of fun makers. Buller's Concert Band will give a concert in conjunction with the performance.

Visitors to the grounds are allowed plenty of time to inspect the animals before the performance starts.

What Does Labor Want?

[By Dr. Frank Crane.]

What labor wants is democracy. It is not more wages. Even when it gets more wages it is not satisfied.

In countries where labor is best paid it is the most insurgent. It is not shorter hours. It is not welfare work. It is not up-lift.

It is not charity of any kind, nor coddling, nor sympathy, nor being helped, nor any such thing. Some laborers and some representatives of labor may say they want these things, but they do not understand. They are superficial.

When you look deep into the heart of the workingman, you discover that all he wants is democracy.

What does that mean? He means he wants to be treated as a human being.

He does not want to be bought and sold as a chattel, to be bossed as a slave, nor to be herded as a steer.

He feels he is a man. And the fundamental desire of a man is his manliness. That is, that he may determine his own life and the conditions under which he shall work; that he shall have the privilege of expressing his own opinions, making his own mistakes, choosing his own friends and forming his own organization.

All the trouble with labor has arisen from the notion, inherited from the dark past, that the man who supports himself by his daily work is somehow inferior to the man who is supported by an endowment. That is the root poison of the English class system, German and Austrian Kaiserism, Hindu caste and American snobbery.

"The object of all reform in this essential matter," says Mr. Wilson, "must be the general democratization of industry based upon a full recognition of the rights of those who work in whatever rank, to participate in some organic way in every decision which directly affects their welfare."

Let the capitalist and laborer sit down together and talk things over. That way lies the untangling of all social and economic hard knots.

Quit the "class" business. Stop the hating and cursing and contempt and intolerance. Believe in men!

All men are fair. That is a safe general rule. All men want to be fair.

Deepse no man. Have done with contempt and defiance and silly heroics.

Treat men right. Approach men with courtesy. Respect men. Nothing makes a real American more disgusted than to hear the employer talk of the unfairness, stupidity and stubbornness of working people, or to hear the labor agitator talk of the tyranny, injustice and greed of employers.

Both statements are generalizations, are lies.

Of course there are selfish and bullying men in all walks of life, in the director's room and at the work bench. But the average man is fair-minded. He does not want to cheat nor to tyrannize. Neither does he want to be uplifted or improved. He wants a square deal. That's all.

You've got to believe in folks or you will not get along. Men are fair.

If you believe this you shall be saved. If you will not believe it you shall be damned.

It's not any "conditions" or "economic system" that is the

MADE IN CANADA

Work Is Our Salvation

The signing of the peace treaty, and with demobilization of the army so well advanced that, so far as Canada is concerned, July 31 has been fixed as the official date by which demobilization will be considered as having been completed, brings the nations of the world to close grips with vital domestic problems of reconstruction. It was, of course, impossible to turn the wheels of the economy for five years during which the energies of almost all mankind and the resources of all civilized nations were devoted to works of destruction without creating conditions which will require much time, great patience and almost infinite wisdom to restore to normal.

The necessities of war forced the abandonment of many sound business principles. The need of securing supplies in huge quantities at a moment's notice resulted in the payment of unheard of prices for these supplies, and the payment of higher scales of wages in order to secure the necessary output than had hitherto been known, especially as countless millions of men had been withdrawn from productive enterprises into the armies. The inevitable result was the doing of business in many extravagant ways because output was demanded regardless of the cost. And this excessive cost of production, coupled with the wholesale destruction of property and wealth which was taking place all over the world, led to an increase in the cost of living which has become a burden almost too great to be borne. This, in turn, led to still higher wages, and higher wages again increased costs of production.

It is recognized that this cannot go on. If it does, the point will finally be reached where inflation will end in depression, a stoppage of industry, and widespread unemployment. Should that unfortunate condition be created then wages will take a tumble, because under the stress of necessity men will work for almost anything in order to get work and supply the needs of themselves and families. In Canada, we do not want to reach that stage, and it is, therefore, the duty of Government and people alike to direct their minds and bend their energies to eliminating further waste and reducing the cost of living. Wages undoubtedly must and should be maintained at a fairly high level, and there will be much sympathy with the demand of all workers for an adequate return for their labor. But a halt must be called to the almost universal demand for a market shortening of the hours of labor and a consequent decrease in production which means an increased price for the article produced. In these days people should be willing to work longer hours, and thus assist in increasing production to make good the waste and destruction of the past five years, rather than insist upon performing less work. By so doing they will be working out their own and their country's salvation and warding off depression and further loss.

Great Britain, for example, is facing a national crisis as a result of the high wages and short hours demanded by the coal miners and which have made necessary an increase of $1.50 a ton in the price of coal. This means an increased cost of fuel to the people, increased transportation charges on railways and steamships, increased manufacturing costs of all goods, and because of these increased costs of production a decreased ability to compete for trade in the export markets of the world, and consequent loss of trade. The coal mining industry could stand the paying of the higher wages, but the shorter hours of employment means such a loss in output that the combined loss is staggering and, of course, in the final analysis, the people must pay it.

In Canada we are face to face with somewhat similar conditions and the country is passing through an era of industrial strikes which, as Premier Borden has pointed out in an appeal to all the people for co-operation, are almost as destructive as war itself. There should be no strikes in Canada. They entail loss all round. And they are an unnecessary survival of a bygone age, because we now have all the necessary machinery of arbitration to settle any disputes which may arise.

Canadians need to arouse themselves to full recognition of the fact that true patriotism at this time demands the rendering of just as unselfish service as was given by our soldiers in the war. If the call of patriotism will not lead men and women to render such service, then in self-interest they should do so in order to avert nationwide depression and unemployment. Our soldiers did not cavil at the long hours of labor they put in for us and our country's cause. Nor should the workers of Canada now demand a reduction of hours of labor to an extreme minimum.

In some quarters the fallacious doctrine is preached that it is necessary to shorten the hours of individual labor in order to supply employment for all. The reverse is true. The greater the production, the greater the wealth produced and the greater the amount of new employment which will be provided. Adversely restrict the output of any essential commodity, say coal as in Britain, and the output of all other industries is adversely affected and the amount of employment lessened.

Let a high standard of wages be maintained, but let our people be willing to work even longer hours than before the war, and throw their energy and capacity into their work during their hours of labor. Only so will they save themselves and their country from an even more perilous position than that of the Great War.

Hot For Arctic Explorer

Stefansson Simply Couldn't Stand New York's Heat

New York—Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the Arctic explorer, who since his five years' expedition in the far north for the Canadian Government has been engaged in writing a book telling of his experiences and scientific researches, left here for Glacier, B.C., for a few good shivers. He said he found New York's sweltering, subtropical climate "vitiating."

"The standard of civilization is northward," he said. "I believe that the northern part of the United States and Canada will develop the best products of our civilization. The climate is admirably suited to physical and intellectual health and vigor."

Foodstuff Prices Drop in Britain

Overseas Government Is Not Buying Food Surplus Now

Ottawa—Inquiries are being received by the government as to drop in the price of export cheese. During 1917 and 1918 the British government purchased the exportable surplus of cheese, payment being provided from funds furnished by the Dominion government for the purpose. This year the British government decided not to purchase the cheese, but to allow it to be traded in by private dealers as before the war. The same course has been followed with bacon and "many" other foodstuffs, which during the war were purchased by the British government and have become subject to trading in the open market under world competitive conditions. Any falling of prices in Great Britain will necessarily affect imported commodities, the prices of which are so fixed. It is pointed out here that all European countries where the cost of living is so high will naturally endeavor to purchase foodstuffs from abroad at as advantageous prices as possible.

Town And Country Men

The theory so commonly held a few years ago that the farm homestead should fall to the least ambitious son, to be married and established as best he could, has been largely exploded by the son himself, who turned out in many cases to be a better man than the brothers and sisters who made a moth-like descent upon the bright city. In the wreckage of this theory can be seen many thousands of good farmers dragging themselves through a futile routine of city office work. Of course, what they are doing is useful and necessary and to the outsider, perhaps, quite glittering. The exiled farm boy in the city knows better.

The Policy Of "Grab"

Hard to Get Back to the Sane Days of Moderation and Peace

It is difficult for the ordinary man to understand why, now that the war is over and industries everywhere are once more busy producing for peace purposes, there should not be a return to something like normal conditions. Financial experts can explain the matter completely to their own satisfaction, but to the ordinary man on the street it appears as if it is just a case of grab. The "easy money" of the war has demoralized all classes, and it is hard to get back to the sane days of moderation and peace. The rate's progress cannot go on indefinitely, however, and the sooner this is recognized by governments and profiteers the better.

LISTLESS, PEEVISH GIRLS

When a girl in her teens becomes peevish, listless and dull, when she does not seem to interest her and dainties do not tempt her appetite, you may be certain that she needs more good blood in her system. It is provided with. Before long her pallid cheeks, frequent headaches, and breathlessness and heart palpitation will confirm that she is anemic. Many mothers as the result of their own girlhood experience can promptly detect the early signs of anemia, and the wise mother does not wait for the trend to develop further, but at once gives her daughter a course with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which restore new blood supply and banish anemia before it has obtained a hold upon the system.

Out of their experience thousands of mothers know that anemia is the sure road to worse ills. They know the difference that good red blood makes in the development of womanly health. Every headache, every gasp for breath that follows the slightest exertion by the anemic child, every pain she suffers in her back and limbs are reproaches if you do not take the best steps to give your weak girl new blood, and the only sure way to do so is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. New, rich red blood is infused into the system by every dose of these pills. The new blood brings good appetite, new energy, high spirits and peace of mind. The influence is felt by your daughter Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and take them yourself and note how promptly their influence is felt in better health.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail paid—add 10 cents a box of six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Third Dose Relief! Fifth Dose! Diarrhoea - Stopped.

Diarrhoea does not need to persist for any length of time until the whole system is weakened and debilitated. No other disease so quickly undermines the strength and brings about a condition of prostration and very often total collapse.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is not only prompt and effectual in checking the diarrhoea, but at the same time acts as a stimulant, strengthens the heart and braces up the whole system, and one of the best ways to get it is to keep it in the house, and would not be so likely to be needed.

Mr. H. Arnold, Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., writes: "A few years ago while out thrashing, I had a severe attack of diarrhoea. Nothing I took seemed to do me any good. I was getting worse all the time. Hearing that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry was good for diarrhoea, I went into town and procured a bottle. After the third dose I felt relief, and after the fifth dose the diarrhoea had stopped. I always keep it in the house, and would not be so likely to be needed."

Land Settlement For British Soldiers

1,000,000 Former Imperial Soldiers Planning to Leave for Overseas Dominions

Toronto, Ont.—When passing through this city en route to Calgary Christopher Turner, of England, who is in the country for the purpose of investigating the Union Government's land settlement plans for imperial soldiers, said that there are 1,000,000 former soldiers of the imperial forces in England who are planning to leave for one of the overseas dominions within the next two years to engage in farm work, and declared that there is immediate need on the part of the Government of Canada of strong effort to attract the greater part of these men to the Dominion.

Speaking of the land settlement of the British Empire, Mr. Turner said: "It is appalling that out of about 60,000,000 white population, only about 13,000,000 are on the land, while Germany, one-sixteenth as large as the British Empire, has 22,000,000 on the land, and France 18,000,000." In order to remedy this condition of affairs, he explained that there is being formed in England a ministry of emigration, whose duty it will be to select as many as possible on the lands of Great Britain and create a steady surplus of land-holding countrymen who will be encouraged to come to Canada and other dominions. These men, he said, would probably settle in communities of about 150, the most attractive to the former soldier being a small holding with sufficient capital to operate it.

Daylight Saving In U. S.

Is to Be Continued for a Long Time Yet

Washington, D.C.—The daylight saving plan, under which the clocks of the country are turned forward an hour in March and moved back in October, will be continued indefinitely. This was assured when, following President Wilson's veto of the 111,000 agricultural appropriation bill because of its rider repealing the Daylight Saving act, the house refused by a vote of 247 to 145 to pass the measure over the President's veto.

House advocates of the repeal said after the agricultural bill had been sent back to committee for elimination of the repeal provision, that no further effort would be made at this session, perhaps not in this congress, which continues in recess until March, 1921, to wipe out the Daylight Saving act. There was no indication, they said, that they would be able to strengthen the forces.

Labor Enquiry

Preliminary Arrangements for the Coming National Industrial Conference

Ottawa—The labor sub-committee, under the chairmanship of Senator Robertson, will meet in Ottawa to make preliminary arrangements for the coming national industrial conference. The labor sub-committee is an offshoot of the cabinet reconstruction committee, and has among its members representatives both of capital and labor.

It will consider primarily: (a) The date when the national industrial conference shall meet; (b) How the various associations and unions of employees and employers will be represented; (c) The method by which representatives will be chosen.

It is expected that the conference will be held in Ottawa. The date will be as early as possible, possibly in August.

German Competition

The securing by a German firm of a large contract for engineering in Holland at $100 a ton below a British company's tender price is a significant event. If the Germans are going to work hard and accept moderate wages and low profits, they are certain in the end to capture much business in the future as in the past. Competition is beginning to look up already.—Montreal Gazette.

Paris, France.—The cabinet considered the problem of the high cost of living. According to the Echo de Paris the government is considering opening the markets to wheat and barley for the importation of raw materials. The Figaro says the government is discussing the prohibition of the exportation of certain foodstuffs, such as butter, eggs and cheese. Other newspapers declare that the government intends to pass a law inflicting severe penalties on food speculators.

Sure! High Heels Cause Corns But Who Cares Now

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their tender toes in high heel footwear they suffer from corns, then they put on these painful pests, which merely makes the corn grow hard. This suicidal habit may cause locking, and women are warned to stop it.

A few drops of a drug called freeze-one applied to the corn immediately gives quick relief, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain. Ask your shoe store for a quarter of an ounce of freeze-one, which costs very little, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

This drug is an ether compound and dries in a moment and simply shrivels up the corn, and then it is so irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Clip this out and pin on your wife's dresser.

THE COW PUNCHER

"What did you say about milking?" he ventured at length.

"I asked if you milked," she said, with an attempt at coyness. "And you answered, 'Milk what?' as though they were clever. And we need milk for breakfast."

"Well, I was serious enough," he said. "There isn't a cow within twenty miles."

"No cows?" Why, I thought this was the ranching country."

"Sure thing. We sell beef and buy milk. Let me show you."

He approached a packing case on the wall, walking softly and extending his hands as though to touch it gently, and murmuring, "See what a good one it is. From the box he removed a tin of condensed milk, which he set on the table. In his pocket he found a small and with a hammer quickly made two holes in the tin."

"Milk is finished," he announced.

At this juncture the doctor, who had been resting in the room with his patient, entered the kitchen. During the setting of the limb he gradually became aware of the position of Irene in the household, but had that not been so, one glance at the boy and girl as they now stood in the bright morning sunshine, he with his big, wiry frame, his brown face, his dark eyes, his black hair, she round and knit and smooth, with the pink shining through her fair skin and the light of day glancing on her brown hair, must have told him they had sprung from widely separated stock. For one perilous moment he was about to apologize for the mistake made in the darkness, but some wise instinct closed his lips. But he wondered why she had not corrected him.

They were seated at breakfast when the senior Elden made his appearance. He had slept off his debauch and was as sober as a man in the throes of alcoholic stupor. He was only partially dressed; his face had the peculiar brightness of the hard drinker; his eyes were watery and shiny, and several days' growth of beard, with patchy grey and black spots, gave a stucco effect to his countenance. His moustache drooped over a partly open mouth; the top of his large head was bald, and the hair that hung about his ears was much darker than his moustache. Seeing the strangers, he hesitated in his lurch toward the water tub, steadied himself on wide-spread feet, very flat on the floor, and waved his right hand slowly in the air. Whether this was to be understood as a form of salutation or a gesture of defiance was a matter of interpretation.

"Visitors," said the old man, at length. "Always welcome, m'arse. 'Sh' scash me." He made his uncertain way to the water bench, took a great drink, and set about washing his face and hands, while the breakfast proceeded in silence. As his preparations neared completion Irene set a place at the table.

"Won't you sit down here, Mr. Elden?" she said. There had been no introductions. Dave ate on in silence.

"Thank you," said the old man, and there was something in his voice which may have been emotion or may have been the humbleness of the heavy load on a boy who had done nothing to deserve this punishment. The miseries associated with his parentage had gone far to make him sour and moody. Irene, at first had thought him rude and gloomy; flashes of humor had modified that opinion, but she had not yet learned that his disposition was naturally a buoyant one, weighed down by an environment which had made it evil and unresponsive. In years she had learned to know what unguessed depths of character were to be revealed, when that stoic nature was cross-sectioned by the blade of a keen and defiant passion. This morning she foresaw nothing of these future revelations, but in the old man her instinct detected qualities which perhaps were awaiting only some touch of sympathy, understanding to flash forth even yet like that burst of sunset rays, which sometimes marks the close of a happy day.

Mr. Elden promptly engaged the doctor in conversation, and in a few moments had gleaned the main facts in connection with the accident, and the father and daughter which it had brought so involuntarily under his roof. He was quite sober now, and his speech, although slowly, was not indelicate. He was still able to pay to woman that respect which curbs the coarseness of a tongue for years subjected to little discipline.

After breakfast Irene attended to the wants of her father, and by this time the visiting doctor was manifesting impatience to be away. Other fees were calling him, and he assured Doctor Hardy, what the latter quite well knew, that nothing more could be done for him at present. He would come again at any time if summoned by the young man, or if his professional duties should bring him into the neighborhood of the Elden ranch. But Dave declared with prompt finality that the horses must rest until noon, and the doctor, willy-nilly, spent the morning rambling in the foothills. Meanwhile the girl busied herself with work about the house, in which she was effecting a rapid transformation.

After the mid-day dinner Dave harassed the team for the journey to town, but before leaving inquired of Irene if there were any special purchases, either personal or for the use of the house, which she would recommend. With some diffidence she mentioned one that was uppermost in her thoughts: soap, both laundry and toilet. Dr. Hardy had no hesitation in calling for a box of his favorite cigars and some new magazines, and took occasion to press into the boy's hand a bill out of all proportion to the value of the supplies requested. There was an argument in the yard, which the girl did not fully hear, between father and son, but she gathered that the old man insisted on going to town and filling that, that Dave should replenish his stock of whiskey, to neither of which would the young man consent. It was evident that Dave was the responsible person in the affairs of the Elden ranch.

The day was introductory to others that were to follow. Dave returned the next afternoon, riding his own horse, and heavily laden with cigars, magazines, soap, and with a soft package which proved to be a sponge, which he had bought on the open initiative, and which he tendered to Irene. She took it with slowly rising color, and with a strange misgiving whether this was a bona fide contribution to the toilet equipment of the house, or a quiet satire designed to offset the effect of the appeal for soap.

The following day it was decided that the automobile, which since the accident had lain unperturbed by the roadside, should be brought to the ranch building. Dave harnessed his team, and instead of riding one of the horses, walked behind, driving by the reins, and accompanied by the girl, who had proclaimed her ability to steer the car. When they reached the stream she hesitated, remembering her mishap, but he slipped his unoccupied hand firmly under her arm, and they walked the log in safety. It seemed to Irene that he continued his assistance when it was no longer needed, but she accepted the courtesy without remark.

With the aid of the team and Dave's latest car was soon righted, and was found to be none the worse for its defection from the beaten track.

Irene presided at the steering wheel, watching the road with great interest, and turning the wheel too far on each occasion, which gave to her course a somewhat wavy or undulating character, such as is found in broad knives, or perhaps a better figure would be to compare it to that rolling motion affected by fancy skaters. However, the mean of her direction corresponded with the mean of the road, and all went merrily until the stream was approached. Here was a rather steep descent, and the car slowed a sudden purpose to engage the horses in a contest of speed. The animals were suspicious enough at best of their strange wagon, and had no thought of allowing it to assume the initiative. Now, Irene knew perfectly well where the brake was, and how to use it. In fact, there were two brakes, operated by different means, and perhaps it was this duplication, intended to insure safety, that was responsible for her undoing. Her first impulse was to use the emergency, but to do so she must remove her hand from the steering wheel, where it was very fully occupied. She did start to put this impulse into effect, but an unusually violent deflection caused her to reconsider that intention. She determined to use the foot brake, a feat which was accomplished, under normal conditions, by pressing one foot firmly against a strap, somewhere beneath the steering post. She shot a quick glance downward, and to her alarm discovered not one, but three contraptions, all apparently designed to receive the pressure of a foot—if one could reach there—and as similar as the steps of a stair. This involved a further hesitation, and in automobiling he, who hesitates invites a series of rapid experiences. By this time all Irene's attention was required to bring the car to some unanimity of direction. It was quite evident that it was running away. It was quite evident that the horses were running away. The situation assumed the qualities of a race, and the only matter of grave doubt related to its termination. Dave, still holding fast to the reins, ran beside the car with prodigious strides which enabled him to bring but little restraint upon the team, and Irene held to the steering wheel with a grip of desperation.

Then they struck the water. It was not more than two feet deep, but the horses were frightened. It came and the extra alarm it excited in the horses, resulted in the breaking of the lariet. Dave still clung fast to his team, and now that the terrifying rival no longer pursued them, they were soon brought to a standstill. Having decided that he tied them to a post and returned to the stream. The car sat in the middle; the girl had put her feet on the seat beside her, and the swift water flowed by a few inches when Dave, she was laughing merrily when Dave, very wet in parts, appeared on the bank.

Robert Bacon The Man

Stood in Life and Character for Highest and Best in Line of Truth and Duty

Boston.—The late Robert Bacon stood in life and character for that which is highest and best in American university education. The word "truth" was just as directly written in his face and character as on the shield of Harvard. He never flinched in facing with the truth any situation whether in the field of finance, patriotism or his personal health. Service in the line of truth and duty was always so freely and fully given as to tax his physical resources to the limit. Vacation trips to Europe were necessary for the recuperation of his physical energies. When the summons came from his country for active work at the front, Mr. Bacon would not consider his health. He believed his place was where he could serve to the last drop of blood and energy.

Cost of Foods Still Soaring
Ottawa.—The cost of living is still going up. Labor department returns show the increase during June to have been slight, however. The average cost of a list of 29 staple foods in some 60 cities at the middle of the month was $13.72, as compared with $13.53 at the middle of May, $12.79 in June, 1918, and $7.35 in June, 1914.

Zeppelins Enter Carrying Trade
New York.—A Zeppelin freight and passenger trans-Atlantic service to start about October 18, between New York and Hamburg, with Boston, Chicago, Berlin and Düsseldorf as ports of call, was announced in advertisements in German language newspapers and one United States trade paper published here.

Khari, an importer, who inserted the advertisements, said that he had been designated by the American bank to act as agent for an overseas dirigible freight and passenger service.

Airplane Laws For Protection

Dangerous Trick Flying Forbidden
and Low Flying Over Populations

Ottawa.—On recommendation of the Air Board, the Privy Council has approved of regulations forbidding dangerous flying. Trick or exhibition flying over urban areas is absolutely prohibited, as is also such flying at regattas or other public assemblies, except where specially arranged for by the promoters. Dangerous flying is forbidden everywhere, and flying over cities or towns must be at a height which permits the machine to land outside in the event of engine failure.

Nothing dangerous must be dropped under any circumstances from a flying machine. The penalties provided are six months' imprisonment, or a fine of one thousand dollars or both, and not only the pilot, but the owner of the machine is liable.

Greater Production A Need
British Minister Speaks of the Necessity for Increase of Output

Discussing the industrial future, the Right Hon. J. M. Robertson, who was a member of the Asquith ministry, dwells on the absolute need of greater production, having regard to the war debts and the export trade of Great Britain. There is good ground for hoping that further reductions of working hours, with real wages above pre-war levels, will be found compatible with an increased output, but this cannot be done without the production of saleable goods for international exchange. If Germany is again an industrial competitor with labor equally efficient, working at lower wages for somewhat longer hours, the industrial situation may become a very anxious one. Only an increased production of things generally required can yield an increase in the real shares of things obtained by the majority, or in other words, real wages. The old stimulus to envy and discontent set up among so many workers by the spectacle of idle luxury among the rich must be lessened. Captain of industry should take up the new plans for industrial control and show a new spirit of comradeship toward their men with the sentiment of devotion to the common weal, which inspired some of them during the war. — Toronto Globe.

Huns Intended to Smash Vancouver
Toronto.—"Canada's great naval day is not Trafalgar nor Jutland; it is the day on which the British squadron broke to pieces the German fleet at Falkland Islands," said Rev. Dr. Alfred Hall, senior chaplain of the Canadian naval institutes, in an address delivered at Earl's Court Methodist church. Dr. Hall stated that the shores of Canada were preserved by the battle at Falkland Islands, and that the German squadron intended to smash Vancouver.

Punishment may hobble along on crutches, but it gets there by and by.

France Copes With High Cost of Living

Emergency Measures to Protect People From Prohibiting on Food

Paris.—Emergency measures to cope with the high cost of living were decided upon by the cabinet. The number of government food stations in Paris will be doubled, additional popular restaurants will be opened, and foodstuffs will be put at the disposition of the public through co-operative associations. The government will fix prices for foodstuffs in the stocks of the war department, which will be given to the co-operative associations to sell.

The cabinet also adopted a measure providing for appointment of an under-secretary for food, with power to prosecute unlawful speculation in foodstuffs. The bill provides penalties against those convicted of speculation, including loss of political rights and the temporary legislation closing of stores or establishments.

Rural Credits Live Topic Benefit to Be Derived From a Proper Development of System in

The recent conference of agricultural representatives who are interested in rural credits and the members of the rural credits staff was a marked success. Professor Reynolds of the agricultural college, and Geo. W. Frount, M.L.A., who presided, both spoke of the benefit to be derived from a proper development of the system as adopted in Manitoba.

E. A. Weir, the agriculturist of the rural credit movement, clearly explained many phases of the business with which he has come in contact in his experience with the 36 already existing societies, and stated that the directors of the societies had conducted the business in a remarkably creditable manner, and that the best results had been obtained in improving remote and isolated districts.

No loan was made unless there was a reasonable security.

Hon. Edward Brown made the interesting statement that although the Farm Loans Association and the Rural Credits Societies were at present under the direction of the treasury department, the movement was so closely related to agriculture that in the course of time they might be quite fully transferred to the agricultural department.—Free Press.

"Those people are wrong who think we will never have to fight again. We must be prepared."

Value of B.C. Minerals Increased
Victoria, B.C.—According to the new complete statistics of the mineral production of the province, the total value for 1918 of all minerals is $41,782,474. This is an increase of $4,772,082.

Livestock Drowned In Severe Floods

In the Southern Part of Buenos Ayres Province

Buenos Ayres.—Government reports show that one million sheep and 100,000 cattle have been drowned in floods in the southern part of Buenos Ayres province. The railways and telegraphic communications have been interrupted and several sections in that region have been completely isolated for more than a week from this city.

The floods were due to a month of the heaviest rainfall ever recorded here. Over on the Chilean side of Argentina there have been further heavy snowfalls along the Trans-Andean Railroad, causing new damage to the line. At one point the snow has accumulated to a depth of fifty yards on the tracks. The snow in this region has been more or less continuous for a month, and in some places is more than 26 feet deep.

Large Lumber Enterprises
World's Markets Will Be Entered With Products of B.C. Forests

The most gigantic lumber enterprise ever conceived has been launched in British Columbia by a syndicate headed by Percy M. Furber, president of the American Oil Fields Co., New York, and John Arbuthnot, financier of Victoria, B.C., and a former mayor of Winnipeg. The world's markets will be entered with the products of B.C. forests, mills and factories. Already orders for 30,000,000 feet of lumber have been received from British interests and contracts are pending from European interests that will run into billions of feet. The Oriental, Australian and South American markets will receive special attention, and shipments to Atlantic ports via the Panama Canal will be regular after the reconstruction of devastated Europe.
